

A Salute to Our Reviewers

The peer review process is the cornerstone of JCDA. It ensures that the material presented in the publication meets certain criteria of quality, accuracy and relevance to practice. In my opinion, the reviewers listed below are the unsung heroes of JCDA. They are all very busy professionals, yet they cheerfully provide me with high-quality advice with regard to the manuscripts they evaluate. They give their valuable time and expertise without monetary compensation. I extend to them, on behalf of the Canadian dental profession, a profoundly felt thank you.

If I have failed to recognize publicly the efforts of anyone who has reviewed manuscripts in the past year, I apologize. I am always on the lookout for more help with reviewing manuscripts. If you would like to contribute to the profession by reviewing English or French submissions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Dr. John O'Keefe, Editor-in-Chief
